1.4 Related Policies and Legislation

This policy relates to and depends on other Council policies, as well as legislation, including:

- Child and Youth Safe Organisations Act 2023 (Tas)

1.5 Policy Review and Update Cycle

This policy is to be reviewed initially in December 2024 and thereafter, every four (4) years or as required.

2 Policy

2.1 Glamorgan Spring Bay Council Child Safe Statement of Commitment

- Glamorgan Spring Bay Council (Council) is committed to the safety and wellbeing of children and young people while enabling their participation as valued members of our community.
- Council has zero tolerance to child abuse and harm. Council personnel are obligated to prioritise the safety of the children they interact with in the performance of their role and to report conduct of concern.
- Council recognises the importance of child safety in the provision of quality community services. All children who attend services, programs, events, and community spaces (including online environments) that are delivered, owned, contracted, or managed by Council, have the right to feel safe, be safe, and be heard.
- Council recognises legal and moral responsibilities in keeping children and young people safe and have robust policies and procedures in place to meet this commitment that are aligned with the National Principles for Child Safe Organisations.
- Council wants children to thrive, be safe, happy, and empowered, and are dedicated to ensuring their views are listened to and respected, and they are given opportunities to contribute to how Council plans and delivers services that affect them.
- Council is committed to being a Child Safe Organisation.

2.2 Policy Context

Council is committed to the safety of Child and Young People. Council is legally required to comply with the Child and Youth Safe Organisations Framework, which aims to protect children from abuse and harm.

2.3 Child Safe Standards

The Tasmanian Child and Youth Safe Standards (the Standards) outline how an organisation can develop a culture with child safety and wellbeing at its centre. The Standards contribute to preventing abuse and harm. They require organisations to meet a benchmark that ensures children and young people's rights to safety and wellbeing are respected and upheld.

All 10 Child and Youth Safe Standards must be put into practice in accordance with a Universal principle for Aboriginal Cultural Safety. The Universal Principal says organisations must provide an environment that ensures that the right to Cultural Safety of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander children is respected.

Tasmania's 10 Child and Youth Safe Standards mirror the National Principles for Child Safe Organisations which emerged from the work of the Royal Commission into Institutional Responses to Child Sexual Abuse.

The Standards are as follows:

Standard	This means
Standard 1: Child safety and wellbeing is embedded in organisational leadership, governance, and culture.	All people in the organisation care about children and young people's safety and wellbeing above everything else, and make sure they act that way and lead others to act that way.

Standard 2: Children and young people are informed about their rights, participate in decisions affecting them and are taken seriously.	Children and young people are told about their human rights, have a say in decisions and are taken seriously.
Standard 3: Families and communities are informed and involved in promoting child safety and wellbeing.	Families, carers, and communities know about and are involved in the organisation's child and safety and wellbeing activities.
Standard 4: Equity is upheld and diverse needs respected in policy and practice.	The rights of every child and young person are being met, and children and young people are treated with dignity, respect, and fairness
Standard 5: People working with children and young people are suitable and supported to reflect child safety and wellbeing values in practice.	People working with children and young people are safe to work with children and young people and are respectful of them. They are taught how to keep children safe and well.
Standard 6: Processes to respond to complaints and concerns are child focused.	Children, young people, families, carers, staff, and volunteers are listened to and can share problems and concerns.
Standard 7: Staff and volunteers are equipped with the knowledge, skills and awareness to keep children and young people safe through ongoing education and training.	Staff and volunteers keep learning all the time so they know how to keep children and young people safe and well.
Standard 8: Physical and online environments promote safety and wellbeing while minimising the opportunity for children and young people to be harmed.	Children and young people are safe in online and physical spaces.
Standard 9: Implementation of the Child and Youth Safe Standards is regularly reviewed and improved.	The organisation keeps reviewing and improving its child safety and wellbeing practices.
Standard 10: Policies and procedures document how the organisation is safe for children and young people.	The organisation writes down how it keeps children and young people safe and well, and makes sure that everyone can see these documents.

2.4 Reportable Conduct Scheme

The Reportable Conduct Scheme (the Scheme) aligns closely with the Standards. The Scheme aims to improve how organisations respond to allegations of certain types of misconduct involving children/young people, committed by their workers and volunteers.

The Scheme imposes legal obligations on Council's General Manager as head of the organisation to have systems in place to prevent child abuse, and if child abuse is alleged, to ensure allegations are brought to the attention of the appropriate persons for investigation and response.

Under the Scheme, reportable conduct is broader than suspected criminal behaviour, and includes:

- Sexual offences (against, with or in the presence of, a child)
- Sexual misconduct (against, with or in the presence of, a child)
- Physical violence (against, with or in the presence of, a child)
- Grooming of a child
- Behaviour that causes significant emotional or psychological harm; and
- Significant neglect
- Relevant offences such as failing to report child abuse.

2.9 Council’s Obligations with External Parties

Although Council is not legally responsible for providing oversight of compliance with child safe practices outside of this organisation, Council will take any reasonable steps to engage with persons who utilise Council’s facilities to operate in alignment with this policy.

2.10 Council’s approach to Royal Commission Recommendation 6.12

The Royal Commission into Institutional Responses to Child Sexual Abuse defined a role for Local Government under Recommendation 6.12 which states:

“With support from governments at the national, state and territory levels, local governments should designate child safety officer positions from existing staff profiles to carry out the following functions:

- a) developing child safe messages in local government venues, grounds and facilities
- b) assisting local institutions to access online child safe resources
- c) providing child safety information and support to local institutions on a needs basis
- d) supporting local institutions to work collaboratively with key services to ensure child safe approaches are culturally safe, disability aware and appropriate for children from diverse backgrounds.”

In developing this policy, Council has been working with the Local Government Association Tasmania to understand how to best implement recommendation 6.12 in the context of the legislation and Council’s limited resourcing. The Local Government Association Tasmania continues to advocate to the national and state government for more support to local governments (which has yet to be forthcoming). Without additional support, Recommendation 6.12 is not something Council can currently fully embrace with the current resourcing.

Council acknowledges it has a leadership role in the community to support relevant organisations to be child safe and promote child safe practices, and will work towards the functions of Recommendation 6.12 where possible. Council’s approach to working towards the desired outcomes from Recommendation 6.12 is to manage this workload through the GSBC Child and Youth Safe Organisation working group.

It is anticipated that over time more resources may be made available to us from the State Government. Council may also decide to put more resources to this on its own accord. This policy should be reviewed and updated accordingly.

3 Implementation

Implementation of this Policy rests with the General Manager.
